THURSDAY - - - NOVEMBER 28

Armenia has all the Turkey she wants. Russia hasn't. It is the difference in taste and cooking.

The latest fad is an "extortion social."
 It is probably nothing more than an other name for a church fair.

Come to think of it, a good many people ought to be thankful that Holmes is incarcerated and sentenced to hang.

Everybody ought to have turkey today, if he wants it. There is no satisfaction in seeing anybody dieting on crow on a holiday.

We trust Galion is having a real Thanksgiving today. Next year, perhaps, the old girl won't have anything to be thankful for.

The Erie ought to fill up on turkey today, figuratively speaking. It isn't every railroad that has a chance of two receivers at one time.

What a happy thought it was to have Thanksgiving come just before the assembling of congress and the legislatures. This is an old joke, perhaps, but it is worth space as an example of truth in jest.

A big school boy at Upper Sandusky kicked the superintendent of the schools "in his midst" and in return was knocked down with great facility.
 There are yet a few optimists in the town who hope that the schools will still be able to get along without employing the coroner.

We suppose we shall have to make a good showing at the foot ball game today, just to prove we are college bred, if nothing more. Moreover, the provincial town that can see a bang-up foot ball game is getting a good deal of the moss kicked off its back. Delaware and Fostoria will please take notice.

It is hoped the Ohio Day at the Atlanta Exposition will be made a marked success. The State Board of Commerce has fixed on Wednesday, Dec. 3, as Ohio Day, and we doubtless record the wish of every Buckeye that it be a very notable day of the exposition.
 Ohio has not been represented by a state exhibit, so the necessity of a memorable Ohio day is all the more apparent. Ohio gets closer every year to the new and growing South, and we hope to see Ohio making a favorable impression on the representatives of the new South to be met at Atlanta.

Let's see. Marion has added during the past year several miles of street paving; she has that long-looked-for opera house in course of erection; one of the best street railway systems in the state; handsome new business blocks have been erected; new churches are under way; new dwelling houses continue to pop up all over the city; population maintains a substantial increase; manufactures continue to prosper, and workmen have employment, while the city has done nothing to forfeit her reputation of being one of the best little cities in Ohio. If the turkey is properly served there is no reason why Marionites should not be thankful.

When it is recalled that the only unsatisfactory brick paving we have is that laid too late last winter, we are surprised that the contractors would care to carry on the work at this season, and more surprised that council will permit it to go on. If the plan is to advance the work as far as possible, consistent with good work, there can be no harm in permitting the sub-structure to be laid this winter, but it is folly to have the brick put down. We shall have an eminently more satisfactory job if the brick laying is postponed until spring. Last winter it was a case of get out of the mud, coupled with our inexperience.
 We are more experienced now, and are not suffering to get out of the mud. At any rate, the sub-structure will obviate

The suggestion that municipal spring elections be abolished and that the elections be held at the same time as state elections, leads the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette to remark:

Separate municipal elections cost something, but they are worth all they cost, for they bring the attention of people directly to their home affairs.
 Next to family affairs the affairs of one's own city chiefly interest him.
 To hold a city election in the fall would be to confuse and belittle home issues.
 There is no interference with business caused by a municipal election. It is a sort of stock-taking season. The season wherein men find out what has been done, and consider what has had ought to be done. The more attention that is paid to local affairs the better.

This sensible view will no doubt be pretty generally endorsed by Ohioans.
 Municipal affairs need attention at spring elections that would be lost sight of in the interest of a state election.

The death of M. Alexander Dumas removes a very striking figure from the world of fiction. Brilliant to an exceptional degree, full of genius and enjoying a success that ever encourages, Dumas has heard the literary world applaud long and loud. Unfortunately for Dumas, as viewed by his critics, the character of the man, reflecting the high life of gay Paris—where restraint is least, has been reflected in characters throughout his works that the moral reader dare not admire. In short Dumas has more than skirted the borders of immorality, in his marked genius, and has created—may reflected characters which the sober morality of the new world and the sterner judges of the old believe to be dangerous.

The weather clerk deserves a smile of approval and a nice, large chrysanthemum. The day is ideal.

DEAD MAN'S VALLEY.

THIS MYSTERIOUS PLACE IS LOCATED NEAR LARUE.

An Old Story of a Ghost That Used To Stand at the Railway Crossing—Believed Beaux Still Drive Faster When They Reach the Spot.

"Dry Lane" or "Dead Man's Valley" is located near Larue, where a lonely road crosses the Big Four track, and which is looked upon with terror by the superstitious. It is a wild looking place, and a legend is told of how for years at nightfall a person could be seen standing at the crossing, and when the belated pedestrian or driver would arrive at the crossing the ghostly personage had mysteriously disappeared.
 A couple of deaths have occurred at this crossing. A resident of Agosta was stealing a ride and fell off a freight train and was killed at this place.
 Previous to this, a farmer was struck by a train and killed. In this manner the locality gained the name of Dead Man's Valley, but it is more generally known as Dry Lane.

In years past a number of robberies occurred there, and ever since the road was laid out there has been something mysterious about the place. It is a desolate bit of territory, and when in the autumn, at nightfall, the ghost fearing inhabitants of that portion of the country are passing, they are wont to whip up their horses and cross at a faster speed than their steed is in the habit of traveling.

Even now it is looked upon with superstition. The beaux in returning late at night from a call on the belles of the neighborhood will drive a mile out of their way to avoid crossing the lonely spot, and when they do, it is with a mingled feeling of awe and fright, and once across they never look back. Stories of crime and romance are told of the place, but none have ever been proven, with the exception of the robberies of long ago.

Such is the history, or stories, told of the place. It is in the neighborhood, and in fact, adjoins the land owned by the father of L. E. Myers, of this city.
 Said while he had been brought up in sight of the locality and had heard all of the strange stories, that he had never been able to find anything "spooky" about the locality. Still it has the name, and is one of the romantic localities of Marion county, about which many hair-raising legends are told.

In Memoriam.

HEADQUARTERS COOPER POST, No. 117, G. A. R., DEPARTMENT OF OHIO:
 MARION, O., Nov. 28, 1895.

Comrades, once again we are reminded of the uncertainties of life and the certainty of death. We are called upon to mourn the removal from among us of our beloved comrade, Robert M.
 Reed, whose death, after long suffering, has left a vacancy in a loving home.

A devoted wife mourns for the departed husband. Affectionate sons and a daughter sorrow that father is no more among them. "But we mourn not as those who have no hope," for we feel that our comrade was a true soldier of the Divine Commander, Jesus Christ, as well as a faithful defender of the unity and glory of our country to which he offered his life in its time, of need.

Robert M. Reed enlisted as a private in Co. D, 1st O. V. T., Sept. 12, 1861, was appointed a corporal and June 28, 1863, was promoted to a sergeant.
 Much of the time he performed the difficult and responsible duties of orderly sergeant of his company.

In one of the battles before Atlanta he was struck in the leg, just above the knee, by a minie ball, which passed upward and was lost to the surgeons for many years, when it appeared and was removed from the groin. September 25, 1864, while still confined to his bed with his wound, Comrade Reed's discharge was made out and he was reluctantly obliged to accept it, his three years' term of enlistment having expired.

Though for a long time Comrade Reed was unable to meet with us in the post, his heart has always beat in unison with the order, therefore, Resolved, That while we mourn the loss of our comrade we extend to his companion and children our deep sympathy in their deeper bereavement, and Resolved further, That this testimonial to the memory of the departed be spread upon the minutes of the post, a copy under our official seal furnished to the family and copies to the press of this city and Upper Sandusky for publication.

Brother of Dr. Livingstone.

A brother of Dr. Livingstone, the famous African explorer and missionary, is in Fremont, Wash., where he arrived a week or so since on a visit to his son, a resident of that place. His name is John Livingstone, and he is 86 years of age. He appears to be of as hardy a physical type as was his famous brother, and shows little of the weakness that would be natural at his age. He has another son living in southern California, whom he will visit before returning to his old home.

Great Canal Projects.

While we are pondering whether we ought to invest as much as $100,- 000,000 to $150,000,000 in a waterway that will cut through from the Atlantic to the Pacific the French are talking of the very costly project of connecting the Mediterranean with the bay of Biscay by a canal across France. This canal would require fortified entrances, and since it would largely be undertaken for strategic purposes it is urged that a better expenditure of the vast sum needed could be made in furnishing a larger fleet. —New York Sun.

LADY FOOTBALLERS.

Legan College, Kentucky, Beats a Team of Lady Kickers.

Russellville, Ky., can boast of the only ladies' football team in the state.
 The young ladies of Legan college have purchased a pigskin and gone into training. Their system of training is unknown, but is supposed to consist of a mile run and a cold bath before breakfast and cold potatoes to eat. The line up of the team could not be learned, but the captain of the team is said to be of low stature and rather solidly built.
 The center rush is a large golden haired beauty, and the quarter back is a small girl with black hair. One of the half backs is a rather slender blond girl, medium height, and the other a dark girl of the same height more stoutly built.

Many of the young ladies are said to be bruised from practice. One girl, who has hair exactly the color of the ball, in one of the scrimmages was kicked in the face by another girl, who supposed she was kicking the ball. For several days her face was swollen up like she had the mumps. The bloomer suits have not yet arrived, and it is not known whether or not any games are scheduled to take place outside of Legan college campus. It is presumed that the team is ready to meet any young ladies' seminary in the land. —Russellville (Ky.) Ledger.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Secretary McParlin Thinks It Will Elect

the Next President.

Lawrence J. McParlin, secretary of the national executive committee of the People's Party, said recently that the reports to the effect that the People's Party national committee was going to resign are too silly and dishonest for any reputable paper to print. "This fall," he said, "we have increased our vote in every state except one, doubled it in one state and trebled it in another, and we are the only national party that has gained in all the states. We will go into the presidential contest united, and with us will be the silver men of the south and west, who have not heretofore acted with us. There will be a split in both the old party national conventions on the financial question. We will gain those in favor of silver. This will result in our party going to the people in favor of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, while the gold monometallists will be divided into two parties, Democratic and Republican. The result will be the election of a president by the People's Party or by the house of representatives. In either event the next president will be a silver man. The only thing necessary to mute all the silver forces is for the People's Party to drop the subtreasury plan for the Omaha platform. The party will demand that all the other planks remain."

Amherst's Coming Expedition.

The Amherst college eclipse expedition to Japan in 1896 is now assured, and Professor David P. Todd, who will be at the head of the expedition, has been busy for some weeks perfecting the arrangements. This is the first scientific expedition to go out distinctly under the name of Amherst, although Professor Todd has previously directed five expeditions for astronomical research.

The expedition will sail from San Francisco next spring on the schooner yacht Coronet, which will be in command of Captain Arthur C. James, New York Yacht club, a member of the class of '89. The yacht is now at New York, but will start early next month for its long trip round Cape Horn. Mrs. James and Mrs. Todd will accompany the expedition. Owing to the difficulties and dangers of sailing in the Arctic ocean, Professor Todd has decided to fix his post of observation on the island of Yesso, one of the largest northern islands of the Japanese empire. —New York Sun.

A Ghastly Halo.

For a long time reports have now and again come from Michigan that belated hunters had seen a wild deer with a halo around its head and every time the superstitious huntsman took to his heels and made tracks for the nearest habitation.

A few nights ago a hunter with more courage than others who had seen the wonder came across the deer in a clearing and took deliberate aim and fired.
 The deer fell dead in his tracks, and the brave hunter found that what had been supposed to be a halo was a bleached human skull firmly imbedded between the antlers. —Philadelphia Press.

THE HOUSESMITHS' STRIKE.

A New Trade That Has Sprung Up Within

A Few Years.

The strike of the Housemiths' union, which now threatens a general interruption of building in New York city, is indirectly due to the fact that science and invention have recently produced the new industry of converting iron into "house timber." A new trade has been the result. Employment is being given to an increasing number of mechanics who are to structural iron what carpenters are to woodwork, what masons are to brick and stone. They are called housemiths.

Within the past ten years the business of manufacturing iron and putting it in place as the framework of business buildings has assumed great proportions and developed still greater possibilities.
 The fireproof building supported by a structural iron frame is already the business building of the cities. It will be still more the building of the future.

Progress is often unnoticed until it develops such friction as is a result of the relations between members of the Iron league, who supply the iron framework for modern buildings, and the housemiths, who put it in place. Inconvenient as such friction is, it is an indication of the remarkable growth in the building trade which has taken place so recently that the public has hardly had time to realize it. —New York World.

Eugene Field's Last Poem.

The last poem Eugene Field ever wrote is in the form of an introduction to a little book of childish sayings, aptly entitled "Wee Wits," gotten out by the Lake View Woman's club. It is as follows:

The things the children say, Whether in earnest or in play, Whether in an inquiring mood Or burdened with solicitude, Or be it but in jest what things they say, We parents store away.

Against a time we feel may come When, weary are our hearts and numb, We hunger for a presence gone for aye.

Within this heart of mine I have got up a shrine, And round about it I have wreathed remembrances.

They took my boy. What words surpassing death
 Fell from his baby lips and rooted here—His thousand words of tenderness and cheer—Thank God, they could not rob my parent's heart of these!

Striking.

"Oh, yes," rejoined the traveler, "I have been struck by your scenery all right enough—about 14 or 15 times.
 Yes."

Nevertheless he mounted yet again his wheel and pushed bravely forward.

A Warrant Issued for the Big Island Trio Now in Jail.

C. H. Hickie, of Big Island township, was in the city Wednesday afternoon and appearing before Squire McKinley swore to a warrant, charging Elmer Snider, C. B. Ricket and S. C. Fairchild with stealing a buggy robe. The warrant was given to Sheriff Rice.

It was expected that they would either be released on habeas corpus proceedings or on bond, and the warrant was issued to prevent them from getting away if they are released from jail.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL.

MR. AND MRS. FRED HABERMAN ENTERTAINED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The Tally Wags Give a Card Party at Their Rooms—The Mask and Wig Club Elects New Members and a New Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haberman entertained about thirty of their friends at a swell 6 o'clock dinner, Wednesday evening, at their home on Gospel Hill. After dinner the evening was spent in playing cards, the game being progressive pedro. The prizes went to Mrs. M. Strelitz and Mr. J. A. Compton, they winning the ladies' and gentlemen's prizes respectively.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wolford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed K. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. Strelitz, Mr. and Mrs. J. Darnody, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Colbertson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pooch, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Turpey, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Duff, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Carlisle, Mrs. L. B. McNeal, Mrs. M. Patten and Miss Wallace.

The Tally Wags.

The Tally Wags entertained their lady friends at their rooms Wednesday night.

The amusement of the evening was progressive pedro and six tables were utilized until 11:30, when it was found that three ladies had the same score for the prize, a beautiful Dresden plate.

The company at that hour adjourned to the Busy Bee where a delightful spread was laid, and full justice having been done to the eatables the Wags and their friends returned to the club rooms where the three ladies played off the tie, resulting in a victory for Miss Abendrath.

Those present were: Misses Fairfield, Masden, Crow, Cheney, Quigley, Thompson, Walters, Douglas, Abendrath, Bernice Christian, Nettie Quigley and Jo Harshberger.

The Mask and Wig Club.

About a dozen members of the Mask and Wig club met at the rooms of Miss Cummin, Wednesday evening, and elected W. G. Neff to fill the position of secretary and treasurer made vacant by the resignation of Edward London.

During the meeting it was decided to play during the holidays and a committee, consisting of Mrs. L. B. McNeal, Miss Leonard and Charles W. McChlain, was appointed to make arrangements for the production.

The following ladies and gentlemen were elected to membership: Mr. and Mrs. Ed K. Uhler, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Wilson, Miss Daisy Harding and Messrs. McPhail, Bowers, Schultz, Rapp and Chas. Phillips.

LANDES-COLLINS.

Pleasant Wedding Celebration at Owen Wednesday Evening.

The pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Collins, at Owen, was the scene of much festivity Wednesday evening, the occasion being the marriage of their eldest daughter, Lulu M., to David F. Landes, of Caledonia.

At 7:30 o'clock the bride and groom appeared before the assembled guests, accompanied by Miss Clara Collins, sister of the bride, and Mr. Gladys, of Prospect. The couple having taken places near the center of the room, Rev. Fogelson, of Delaware, advanced and in an impressive manner spoke the words that united them in wedlock. After congratulations the guests were ushered into the dining-room, where a sumptuous repast had been prepared.

The young couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. They start out in life with the brightest prospects, and the many friends join in wishing them a long and prosperous life. They will for the present reside with the groom's parents in Caledonia.

Those present at the nuptials from abroad were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lyons, of Caledonia; Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Landes, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maher, Luther Landes and Miss Alta Hatch and the Messrs. Wark and Rathel, of Marion.

The People's Band Dance.

The People's band gave a ball at the rink Wednesday night. It was well attended and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The music was furnished by the People's orchestra, and it received very favorable comment from the dancers.

The rink will open for skating this afternoon, and will also be open this evening. It is to be conducted as a rink the balance of the season, and dances will also be given at intervals.

IN COMMON PLEAS.

A GRIST OF ANSWERS FILED WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

O. A. Benedict, A. E. Millisor, Willis Kanable and Thomas A. Thompson Want Some of the City's Lumber—Solicitor Crissinger Files a Motion.

Willis Kanable, A. E. Millisor and O. A. Benedict, by their attorney, J. A. Wolford, late Wednesday afternoon filed their separate answers and cross-petitions in the court of common pleas in the case of the City of Marion against O. A. Benedict and others.

Defendant Willis Kanable, in his answer and cross-petition admits that he is the owner of lot 3579 mentioned in the petition of plaintiff from which for the extension of Wilson avenue the plaintiff proposes to take 30.4 feet off the north side.

This defendant says that this will only leave a strip 29.6 feet wide, which will not be sufficient for residence purposes and will also compel him to build a new fence along the south side thereof and will render the residue of the property practically valueless, wherefore he asks for judgment for $400 for the ground taken and $300 damages to the residue of the lot.

The answer and cross petition of O. A. Benedict is after the same style as the preceding, the lot in question being lot No. 3578 in Fite's addition to the city, and the proposed extension of the avenue will take 19.0 feet, for which Mr. Benedict asks judgment for $400 as compensation and $400 damages to the residue of the lot.

In the answer of A. E. Millisor the matter of a house comes in, as a house now stands on the lot to be cut into, lot 271. For the strip of land, 19.5 feet wide, Mr. Millisor asks judgment in the sum of $324, and for $800, the value of the house, and $326 for damages done to the residue of the property.

Thomas A. Thompson, by his attorney, J. A. Wolford, late Wednesday evening filed in the court of common pleas an answer and cross petition in the case of The City of Marion against T. A. Thompson and others.

Mr. Thompson in his answer and cross-petition, says he is the owner of lots 2808 and 2809 in T. A. Thompson's addition to Marion. That for the purpose of extending Center street the city proposes to cut a strip off said lots 24 1/2 feet wide but that the profile, meaning the map attached to the petition, only shows 20.2 feet to be taken.

This defendant says further that the street cuts the lands of this defendant in a diagonal course and the front of the property will be left at such an angle that it cannot be built upon, wherefore he asks for $500 compensation for the land taken and $2000 damages to the residue.

In the court of common pleas Wednesday afternoon, in the case of the City of Marion against Henry Gregory and others, D. R. Crissinger filed a motion for a new trial on the grounds that the damages given by the jury were excessive, that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence, that the court erred in rejecting the evidence of the plaintiff and that the damages awarded to the C. C. C. and St. L. R. Co., and the N. Y. P. and O., and N. Y. L. E. and W. R. R. companies, were excessive.

What Would You Have Done?

So far this year we have said so little about the good quality of our clothing.

Demand for such superb clothing at the price was too great.

We do not even take the trouble to deny the absurd rumor that we are undersold.

And yet many good people are blaming us for not denying the stories. They are sorry now that they did not buy of us.

May be we should have said something before, but then those who bought of us have not suffered.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

A. F. McNeal is in Chicago, attending grand opera.
The fall term of school ended Wednesday, under the new rule of dividing the school year into three periods of equal length.
The Hilarity club will give the second of its series of dances at Germania Park hall next Wednesday night. A very pleasant affair is anticipated.
It is expected to complete the work of the asphalt paving by Friday noon. The men were working today and Sup't Worden is pretty certain that by noon Friday they will have finished.
John Walsh will leave the employ of J. Strelitz's Sons Saturday night and will accept a position on the road with the C. C. Stoltz company. Mr. Walsh is an experienced traveling salesman.
Will R. Garberson, of Cleveland, is a guest of his parents, east of Marion. Since Mr. Garberson has been making his headquarters in northern Michigan he has become a decided stranger here.
A solemn service occurred at St. Mary's church this morning. A Requiem High mass was said for the souls of the departed members of St. Patrick's T. A. B. society. The society attended church in a body.
Judge Norris had a telegram from Upper Sandusky Wednesday evening, announcing the death of Robert Carey, Jr., a son of the well-known attorney, Robert Carey. The young man had attained the age of 19. The funeral will occur at 2 p. m. Saturday.
The many friends of R. R. Bartram will be pleased to learn that he is to be joined in wedlock in the near future to Miss Kittie Hamer, formerly of Columbus, but now residing at Rathbone, Ohio. The friends of Mr. Bartram offer congratulations in advance.
M. J. Swisher had a narrow escape from being seriously injured Wednesday. He was working under a scaffold in the Huber works, when the scaffold fell. It struck him on the back of the head, but he noticed it falling and dodged in time to avert a more serious accident.
SICK AND CONVALESCENT.

Today at high noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter, of north Prospect street, their daughter, Miss Annie, will be married to Mr. Charles L. Delancy, of Adams, Mass., by Rev. J. W. Armstrong, of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Miss Porter is a pleasant and affable young lady and the groom is a bustling railroad man of Adams. Mr. and Mrs. Delancy will leave for Adams this evening, where they will make their future home.
This morning at 10 o'clock the marriage of Mr. John Hacker and Miss Lulu Wiley will be solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents on south State street. Rev. A. Skidmore officiating. After the serving of a wedding dinner to relatives and friends the newly wedded couple will leave for Chillicothe where they will make their future home. Mr. Hacker being an employee of the National Manufacturing company of this city at that place.
There are those who say they hate to see their names in the papers and again those who are honest enough to say that they rather enjoy it as a pleasant sensation. One of the latter kind is our friend McPhail; you can't get the type too big to suit him. But then he's an insurance agent, and like our "Good Samaritan" friend, M. J. Hanley, of Delaware, who last night asked the Star to state that the only insurance agent on earth was in the city. And so the song goes on.

THIS MORNING
FUR CAPES.

Without any grandiose language, extravagant claims or full page advertisements, we claim to sell the finest Capes in the city and to give the best values. We invite comparison.

WARNER & EDWARDS.

The Thanksgiving Turkey.

D. Yake,
THE LEADING DRY GOODS MERCHANT.

Perhaps I needn't mention that Thanksgiving Day is here, To publicly acknowledge all the blessings of the year, But lest you may forget it, I will tell you right away How you and I together may celebrate the day. In the e'er remembered homestead where the dear old folks sojourn, The married sons and daughters from far places will return, And bring their merry children wild with eagerness to see Their Grand'pas and Grand'mas, cousins, uncles, aunts and—me. When appetites are sharpened by a walk around the farm, Where everything revised possesses such a charm, The jolly band of loving ones, three generations long, Will march into the dining-room, as happy as a song. And there, around a table stretched to thrice its goodly size, And decked with oider, celery, cranberries, pumpkin pies, In low chairs, and in high chairs, too, they'll gather to await The entrance of King Turkey—which I'll make in royal state A buzz of admiration will my coming greet, And though I can't return the compliment my loving subjects show And make a speech to thank 'em, I'll be happy as the toads And prouder than Defender after beating all the yachts. Then every head—the babies', too, will humbly bow to hear, Good grandpa utter fervent thanks for blessings of the year, And then I'll play the leading part and furnish such a feast To make each grateful feeling with more great fullness increased. While you are growing bigger I'll grow smaller, as you'll see, Till but a thank—full memory will just be left to me, And then you'll leave the homestead and the dear, old folks, and pray That you and my successors long may keep Thanksgiving Day.

You SAVE Money

By trading at Barrett's. We don't sell "100.00 fur cloaks for $15.00" but on your ordinary, every day wants "we get there every time." Our ladies' heavy ribbed fast black all wool hose at 20c are as good as you get elsewhere at 25c. We sell best lining cambrics at 5c a yard. Where else can you get them at that price? 12 Boxes best parlor matches for 10c. What groceryman will not charge you 20 cents. And so all through the store you will find "the same goods for less money or better goods for the same money" than any other store.

TWO SPECIAL DRIVES IN Underwear.

Men's extra heavy fleece lined shirts or drawers, were $1.00 each, reduced to 75c each. All the 25c quality of our ladies' and misses' fleece lined Jersey ribbed underwear reduced to 20c. Special bargains in gloves and mittens this week.

We Close

Thanksgiving Day at 12 o'clock.

We will spend the afternoon with the balance of a thankful people in observing the great holiday, and our salesforce will enjoy a needed rest. We are grateful for a matchless trade—grateful for so much in a mercantile way (and it is of that only that we write here) that we cannot refrain a wish that all others may hail the day in a like spirit. When the day is passed we shall prove the gratitude we owe our trade in a more substantial way.

600 WOMEN'S GARMENTS!!

ON OUR SECOND FLOOR

And almost December. What will we do with them? Sell them! How? Make prices that will fairly talk from the back of every lady who buys one

- $35.00 Fur Capes to go at $15.00
- $30.00 Fur Capes to go at $11.98
- $25.00 Fur Capes to go at $10.00
- $20.00 Fur Capes to go at $7.98

The Manufacturer's Stock of Fur Capes Go Like Wildfire!
He Hesitated---and Lost!

A maker of as good Wraps for women as are produced on this side of the ocean has had three orders unceremoniously canceled. That meant trouble and expense...either to hold the garments for buyers who might not come or to dribble the lots out among already overstocked dealers. Instead, he turned to our buyer (when in New York) hesitated at the loss our offer entailed...then took it. Here are the Jackets that are now ready and will go to the first comers:

- $8.50 Jackets - - - $5.00
- $15.00 Jackets - - - $7.50
- $25.00 Jackets - - - $15.00

The lot include plain Beaver Cloth, 4-Button Box Front, Ripple Back, four large horn buttons. Also same style in Rough Cloths, Astrakhan, Boucle, Kersey. The new Bias Fronts, some full lined with fancy or plain silk.

The Second Circle on Main Floor Is Very Interesting.

Beautiful Stamped Linens, Cushion Tops that are new and handsome, Irish Point Table Covers, Center Pieces, Doylies--new shapes at half usual prices. Richardson's silk for embroidering and outlining are the best.

Carpenters are hard at work on the 3d floor. Soon it will be shelved, then look for the greatest Holiday opening Marion ever saw.
